Pasadena Library Sets Culture Night

Asian Culture Night, an entertainment for the whole family, is being planned by the Children's Room of Pasadena Public Library, 285 E. Walnut St., for Friday, at 7:30 p.m., in observance of International Book Year.

The countries of Japan, China and Indonesia will be highlighted with special guests, including Hanako Fukuda, author of "Wind in my Hand," the children's chorus from the Japanese language school of Pasadena Buddhist Church directed by Machiko Yamanaka, Polly Bowditch McVickar, and Dan Lee, instructor in Tai Chi Chuan.

Miss Fukuda will talk with children and parents about her book, the story of Japan's haiku poet, Issa, and will teach one or two of his haiku songs. Mrs. Yamanaka's children's chorus will offer a program of Japanese songs, and Mrs. McVickar, resident for two years in Java, will demonstrate Indonesian shadow puppets. Formed of flat sheets of leather, the only material resistant to Indonesia's hot, moist climate, these puppets — wagang figures — are moved behind a white cotton screen to tell the story of Rama and his beautiful wife Sita.

Lee, engineer at Caltech's JPL and holder of the black belt in karate and brown belt in judo, will perform Tai Chi Chuan, which is sometimes referred to as "the Chinese yoga." Prior to the 16th century, Tai Chi Chuan was a means of self-defense for Chinese men. Since that time it has ev-olved into a flowing, ritualistic exercise to promote physical and mental health.

The public is invited.

Library programs for children

Free children's programs celebrating International Book Year will be offered at two Pasadena Public Library branches on Saturday.

Starting at 2:30 p.m. at San Rafael Branch Library, 1240 Nithsdale Rd., neighborhood children will serve as puppeteers for the dramatized tales of Nsr-ed-Din Hodja, the comical Turkish teacher-priest.

Refreshments of punch and Turkish Delight will be served after the performance.

At Allendale Branch Library, 1130 S. Marengo Ave., Mrs. Shirley Arora, authoress of "What then Raman," will speak from 3 to 4 p.m. on the customs and culture of India. She will also demonstrate how the traditional Indian dress — the sari — is wrapped.

Refreshments of Indian delicacies are planned.

OPEN HOUSE

Victoria Sanchez, 1972 Tournament of Roses princess, will be special hostess when Hill Avenue Branch of the Pasadena Public Library, 55 S. Hill Ave., honors Spanish culture and celebrates international book year with an open house from 6 to 9 p.m. Wednesday. The event will include a feature film, a "Cinco de Mayo, 1862" pageant by students of St. Philip's School, pinata breaking, exhibition of arts, crafts, coins, dolls and costumes from Spanish speaking countries and refreshments.

YOUTH PROGRAMS

Children who live near the San Rafael Branch of the Pasadena Public Library, 1240 Nithsdale Road, will serve as puppeteers for dramatized tales of comical Turkish teacher-priest Nasr-ed-Din Hodja at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. Refreshments including punch will be served at close of program. Youngsters who live near the Allendale Branch of the Library, 1130 S. Marengo Ave., will hear about customs and culture of India from Mrs. Shirley Arora, author of "What Then Raman," at 3 p.m. Saturday. Mrs. Arrora will show and explain how the traditional Indian dress, the sari, is wrapped. Indian delicacies will be served at end of program.

AFRICAN TOUR — Mrs. Robi Crozier, right, helps Mrs. Rose Simmons arrange artifacts for an "Evening in Africa" program, scheduled for the La Pintoresca Branch Library, 1355 N. Raymond Ave., Pasadena, on Wednesday. Mrs. Simmons will present a color-slide tour of a year's visit to Africa, while Mrs. Crozier will offer a fashion show of African-style designs she created, Mrs. Lillian Smith will preside over a food-tasting party of West African delicacies. The program is set for 7:30 p.m., with a special children's program starting festivities at 3 p.m.

Guatemala arts, crafts on show

A two-week exhibit of arts and crafts from Guatemala at Lamada Park branch library will conclude at 3 p.m. Saturday with a showing of color slides of that country.

Christian Mittelstaedt, a Guatemalan student at Pasadena City College, will narrate the show. Guatemalan coffee will be served.

"An Evening in Africa" is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. April 19 at the La Pintoresca Branch Library. Mrs. Rose Simmons plans to lecture and show slides she took during a year in Africa.

Four girls will model Mrs. Crozier's African-style clothes. A food-tasting party of West African delicacies is planned by Mrs. Lillian Smith.

Children may take part in an afternoon program of movies, stories and a puppet show beginning at 3.

Full Summer Planned at Library

Kids who don't know what to do this summer vacation will have a large variety of activities to participate in if they visit their local library.

Pasadena libraries are planning a full summer schedule of programs including the ever popular reading club activities, story hours, film programs, origami clubs, puppet making and classes in a variety of crafts.

The main Pasadena Public Library, 285 E. Walnut St., and its eight branches will start offering the summer programs Monday.

To encourage youngsters to read this summer the librarians at each facility again will feature special charts showing progress of each participant.

The story telling hours will be held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday at Hill Avenue, Linda Vista, San Rafael and Santa Catalina branches. Lamanda Park and Central libraries will offer their story hours at 2 p.m. Tuesday. Stories also will be presented at Allendale at 10:30 a.m. La Pintoresca at 1:30 p.m. and Hastings at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Among films to be seen by youthful library visitors will be "Doughnuts," "Whistle for Willie," "Crow Boy" and "Anansi the Spider."

Other films to be presented are "The Fisherman and His Wife," "The Weasel Family," "Why the Sun and Moon Live in the Sky" and "The Great Toy Robbery" to be shown at 11 a.m. Monday at Linda Vista; 1:30 and 2:30 p.m., Monday at Lamanda Park; 10:30 a.m., Tuesday, Allendale; 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, La Pintoresca; 3 p.m., Tuesday, Hastings; 11 a.m., Wednesday, Santa Catalina; 2:30 p.m., Wednesday, Hill Ave., 10:30 a.m., Thursday, San Rafael; and 2 p.m. Thursday, Central.

Program Set For Library Awards Fete

Altadenan Ruth Phillips, magician Christopher Coffin and Brenda Easluy of Lion Country Safari, bringing one of Frasier's lion cubs, will present entertainment at various final awards programs of Pasadena Public Library Summer Reading Clubs beginning Wednesday.

Children who have participated in the Dinosaur Reading Club or the International Reading Club this summer, and have read the prescribed number of books, will be receiving their Reading Club certificates.

Coffin will give his magic show at Santa Catalina Branch Library on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m., and Linda Vista Branch Library on Thursday, Sept. 7, at 3:30 p.m. He is entirely self-taught. He first started his hobby of magic when, as a child, he checked out books on magic from the Children's Room of Pasadena Public Library.

On Thursday, Sept. 7, the programs at 11 a.m. at Hastings Branch Library, and 2:30 p.m. at Lamanda Park Branch Library, will feature Miss Easluy and one of the cubs of the famous lion, Frasier. Miss Easluy also will show slides of Lion Country Safari.

Mrs. Phillips, a volunteer with SERVE (Serving Effectively through Resources Volunteer Effort) at several Pasadena schools, will demonstrate African dances and games at the awards program at La Pintoresca Branch Library on Thursday at 2 p.m.

Woodsey joins Smokey as playmate in forest

Smokey the Bear has a new playmate in the forest.

He is Woodsey the Owl.

Woodsey, the symbol from the United States Forest Service to represent ecology causes, was created by Glen Kovar, an Altadena resident.

Kovar, an officer in the Forest Service, said Pasadena school children selected Woodsey's green hat and green pants because they reminded the children of the forest.

Children can see Woodsey at 1:30 p.m. today at the Pasadena Public Library, 1355 N. Raymond Ave. There will be a puppet show, song sheets and patterns for Woodsey-the-Owl puppets.

Woodsey will be at the Hill Avenue Branch of the Pasadena Public Library, 55 S. Hill Ave., at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The creator of the suave French mouse

Ask your children who Anatole is. If they've read books by Eve Titus they'll know he's a suave and resourceful French mouse.

And they'll have the opportunity to meet Miss Titus. She'll be the special guest Saturday at the Summer Reading Club award programs at four Pasadena public libraries.

The programs — for children who have read the required number of books in the Dinosaur Reading Club or the International Reading Club — are scheduled for 10 a.m. at the San Rafael Branch Library, 11 a.m. at the Allendale Branch Library, 2 p.m. at the Central Library and 3 p.m. at the Hill Avenue Branch Library.

Children's Books Will Be Showcased in Pasadena

PASADENA—The Public Library, the Mayfield Junior School, Vroman's Book Store and the Parent Education Department of Pasadena City College will hold a Children's Book Showcase at 7:30 tonight and continuing all day Friday, Oct. 27, at the Mayfield Junior School, 443 S. Euclid St.

The showcase consists of a presentation of local illustrators of children's books and an exhibit of children's books selected for the quality of their design and illustration.

Illustrators will include Leo Politi, winner of the Caldecott Award for "Song of the Swallows;" Bill Peet, known for his picture books; Graham Booth, illustrator of nine books, and author Taro Yashima.

The showcase also will include 33 books published in 1971 that were selected by four judges. These include Jane Byers Bierhorst and Hilda Scott, designers, and Marcia Brown and Maurice Sendak, illustrators. A catalogue will be available which will include critiques of each book by the judges.

The Mayfield Junior School's Mother's Club will host the reception and provide refreshments.

Showcase committee members are Sister Sheila McNiff, Misses Jackie Semerau, Lynn Sullivan, Francine Arrongoiz and Carol Drum, Mrs. James Ryder and Mrs. Floyd Alexander.

BOOK REVIEW—Eighth grader Lisa Cavalier and third grader Bobby McVann of Mayfield Junior School get thrill looking over some of 33 books to be featured at children's book showcase to be held Thursday and Friday in Pasadena.

Mayfield School Plans Children's Book Show

The first children's book showcase will debut at Mayfield Junior School, 443 S. Euclid Ave., Pasadena, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday and will continue all day Friday.

The book showcase is to introduce local illustrators of children's books to Pasadenans and an exhibit of children's books selected for the high quality of their design.

Sponsoring the event is the Pasadena Public Library's Children's Division, the Mayfield Junior School, Vroman's Book Store and the Parent Education Department of Pasadena City College.

Illustrators attending are Leo Politi, winner of the Caldecott award for "Song of the Swallows," (Scribner); Bill Peet, widely known for his picture books for children; and Graham Booth, illustrator of more than nine children's books and author of "Taro Yashima."

Purpose of the showcase is to focus attention on graphics and the aesthetic elements which are important in the evaluation of children's books.

The showcase also will include display of 33 books published in 1971, and a meeting with Maurice Sendak, Ezra Jack Keats and Don Freeman, via color film.

A reception and refreshments served by Mayfield Junior School's Mother's Club is planned.

Serving on the showcase committee are Sister Sheila McNiff, Mayfield; Mrs. James H. Ryder, Pasadena Public Library; Francine Arrongoiz, Mayfield; Jackie Semerau, Vroman's; Lynn Sullivan, Mayfield, Mrs. Floyd Alexander, Parent Education, Pasadena City College, and Carol Drum, La Canada representative.
